

A Glove is created in the image of a hand
It is woven it is fashioned it is sewn
But until it is filled by the presence of a hand
Its value will never be known

You were created in the image of God
You were woven you were fashioned you were "sown"
But until you are filled by the presence of God
Your purpose will never be known

